

Heartland Partnership

The Heartland Partnership is a network of regional organizations with a common interest in education, workforce, and economic development. The Partnership was created to promote the effective use of resources that will nurture an innovative economy that enhances the quality of life in the Pennsylvania Heartland.

(Members include: Ben Franklin Technology Partners, Central Pennsylvania Workforce Development Corporation, IMC, Penn State University, Pennsylvania College of Technology, Governor's Action Team, and SEDA-COG.)

Fred Kluck, Regional Manager, Upper Susquehanna Region
Ben Franklin Technology Partners

Erica Mulberger, Executive Director
Central Pennsylvania Workforce Development Corporation (CPWDC)

Dan Manetta, Executive Director
Innovative Manufacturers' Center (IMC)

Shannon Munro, Vice President Workforce Development
Pennsylvania College of Technology

Elizabeth Lockwood, PREP Regional Coordinator and Project Development/Grants Manager
SEDA-Council of Governments

Jill Collier, Deputy Director, Governor's Action Team