An Overview of rabbittransit's microtransit service

Updated 11/16/2026

David Juba, SRTA Planning Manager

What is Microtransit?

- While not all Microtransit services are the same, the core components are:
  - On-Demand
  - Technology-driven
  - Dynamic / Flexible
  - Fills Traditional Gaps
  - Zonal or Limited Service Area

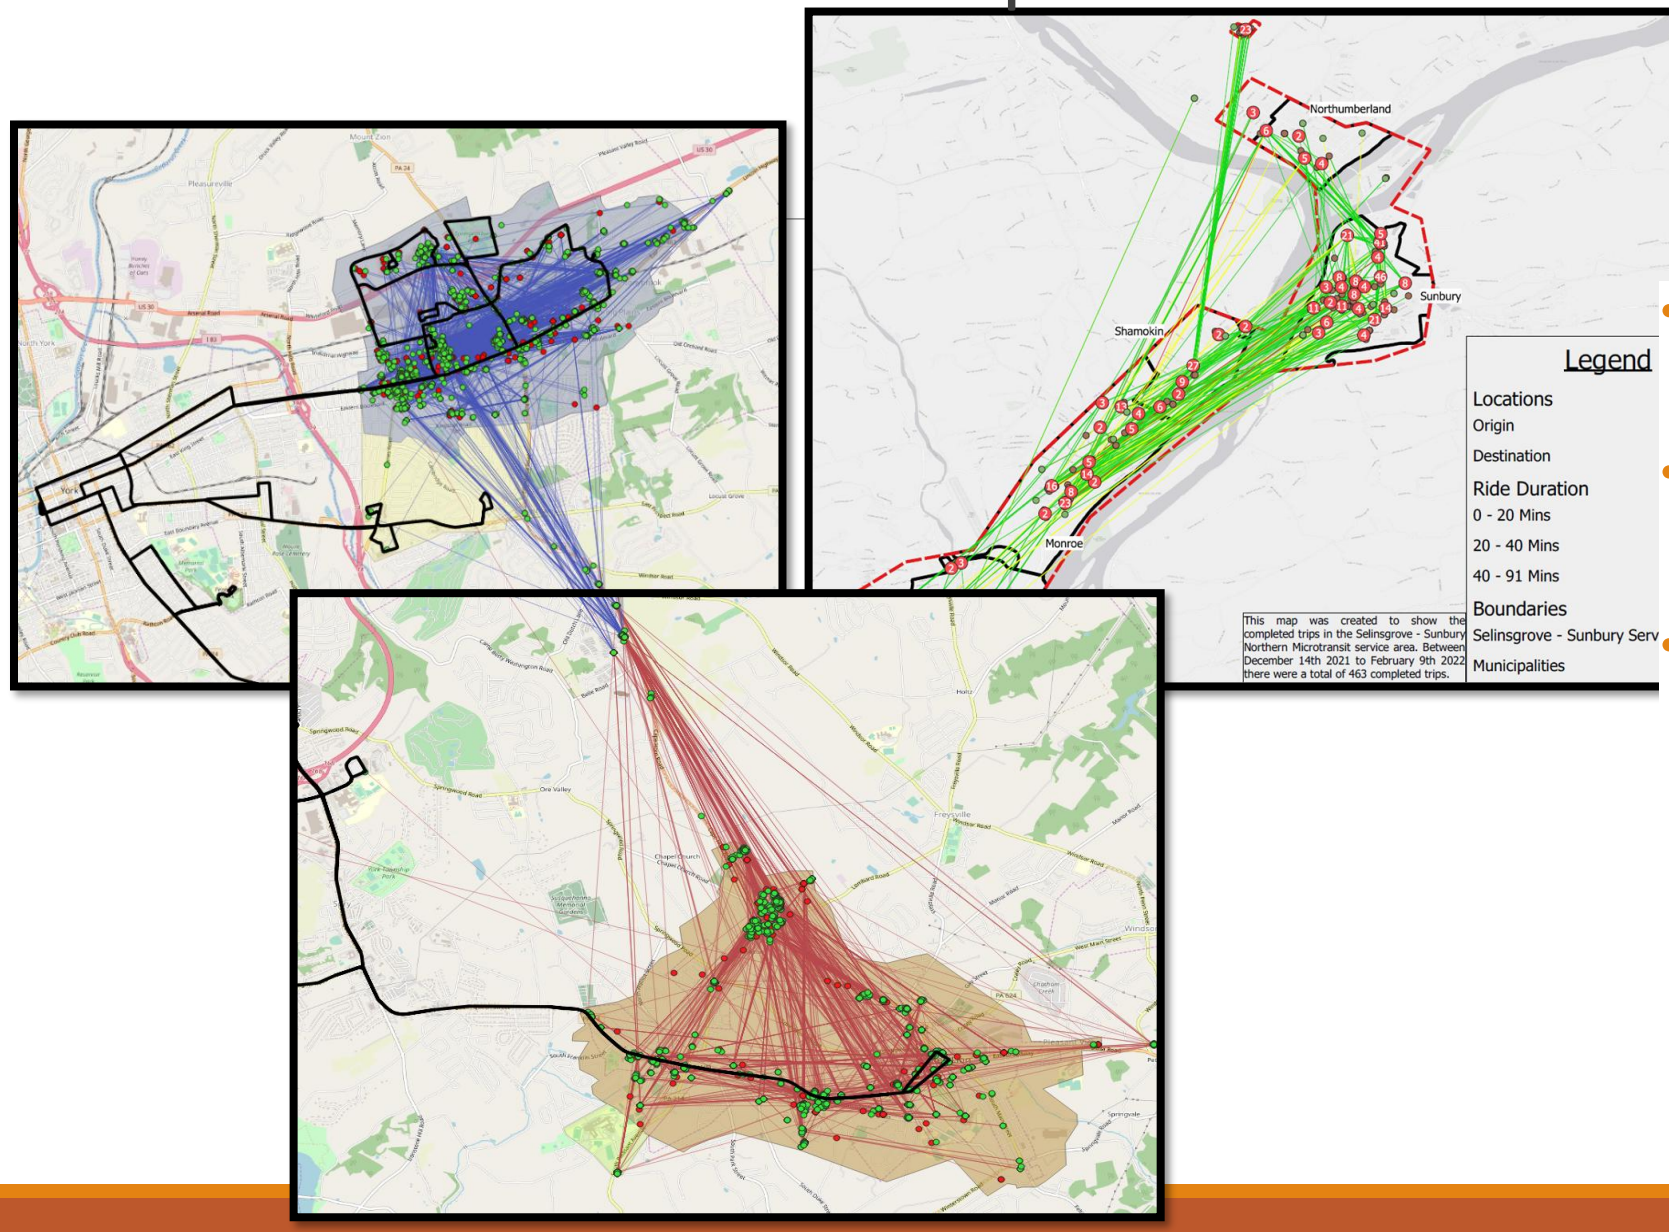

rabbittransit's Model

- rabbittransit began operating a Microtransit (on-demand) service known as "Stop Hopper" in August 2018.
- Focus on expanding mobility ecosystem with assistance of technology.
- Designed to fill gaps in traditional service modes.
- Originally identified 13 potential service areas with 2 deployments (East York and Dallastown/Red Lion).
- As of today, SRTA operates 7 microtransit zones across 5 counties.

Service Areas & Purposes

- First and Last Mile Solution
  - East York
- Transit Propensity Analysis
  - Dallastown/Red Lion
- Unserved Suburban/Rural Need
  - Selinsgrove/Sunbury
  - Bloomsburg/Danville
  - Lewisburg/Milton
  - Chambersburg
  - Berwick/Bloomsburg

How does it work?

- Book and ride anywhere in the zone when the service is operating.
  - Wait and travel times are dependent on demand.
- A rider can book a curb-to-curb ride via the following methods:
  - Use a smart device via an app.
  - Call in to customer service.
  - Use a website in a browser.
  - Flag the bus down at popular destinations.
- Fare payment is done via cash, mobile app, or credit options.
- Software functionality varies, but supports dispatcher functionality similar to CAD/AVL.

Goals & KPIs

- Goal:
  - To create a transit system that adapts to and addresses the needs of the community through embracing emerging technology while reducing costs and improving the diversity of the mobility ecosystem.
- Initial KPIs (and Targets):
  - Efficiency (servicing need)
    - Passengers per Revenue Hour (>2.5 / RVH)
  - Effectiveness (best service, least cost)
    - Operating Cost per Revenue Hour (<=$75 / HR)
    - Percentage of Rider Trip Sharing (>20%)
  - Improving Mobility (measuring qualitative…)
    - Rider Satisfaction / Service Quality (4.5 of 5)
